

FRIDAY APRIL 30 2010

Malaysia serious about alternative energy, says deputy minister

KUALA LUMPUR, April 27 — Malaysia will become a net energy importer before 2020 and is therefore committed to find alternative means, Deputy Science, Technology and Innovation Minister Fadillah Yusof said today.

He said the country's energy requirement was estimated to rise by 6.3 per cent annually and by 2030, the level would have reached 28 per cent.

"Towards this end, Malaysia is very much committed to find alternative means of energy that are sustainable," he said in a keynote address at the EU-Malaysia Biomass Stakeholders Forum here.

Fadillah said the country was in the midst of implementing a number of initiatives with regard to policy review, research and development (R&D) and applications in this area.

The ministry, he said, had given emphasis to the R&D of renewable energy since the Seventh Malaysia Plan.

In total, 185 projects related to the development of technologies focusing on harnessing energy from resources such as biomass, solar, hydro, wind and tidal waves costing RM158 million have been carried out.

Fadillah said biomass would be a feature in the source of renewable energy mix for the country in the near future since Malaysia has an abundance of the resources.

He said the ministry had taken the necessary steps to develop a renewable energy technology roadmap in five focus areas comprising biomass, solar, wind, micro-hydro and tidal power.

"The use of renewable energy plays an ever increasing role in meeting the requirements of our energy security and the effects of climate change due to the greenhouse gases emission," he added. — Bernama

Related Articles

- Oil steady above US\$83 as market shrugs off downgrades
- US Coast Guard finds new leak in undersea well
- Shell Q1 profit soars on oil price, output growth
- BP profits soar, oil spill worries hit shares
- Rig sinks in Gulf of Mexico, oil spill risk looms
- Oil steady below US\$84 after US inventories soar
- Marathon to start drilling Indonesia Pasang Kayu block
- Oil rises above US\$84 on equities, US stock draw

Malaysia Latest

- Ibrahim Ali says 'not publicity-hungry'
- Hulu Selangor shows PKR still Pakatan's weak link
- Long road still ahead for Umno
- IGP reminds media not to twist police statements

Business Latest

- HP-Palm deal fresh blow to Asian smartphone laggards
- Britons face two decades of fiscal pain, says think-tank
- Analysts warn against strict capital controls in Malaysia
- Greece readies new austerity measures

Email This Bookmark

Comments (0)

 Show/Hide comments

Write comment

 Show/Hide comment form

Learn to Trade Currencies

- 1-1 training with English tutor
- Free Practice Account
- We will teach you step-by-step

APPLY NOW

BREAKING VIEWS

- Ekonomi Bumiputera: Walhasil balik asal — Kunta Kinte original
- Melerai rasa tidak puas hati pengundi Cina terhadap BN — Jamhariah Jaafar
- Orang Cina Malaysia, apa lagi yang anda mahu? — Zaini Hassan
- Nik Aziz, Sultan Selangor dan Kickdefella — Lukman Ismail